PRESS RELEASE

On February 28, 2013, Police arrested James E. Williams, 62, of Skene Street, Whitehall, NY, following a report of a traffic complaint and subsequent traffic stop.

Williams was charged with the following:

- Failure to Obey a Police Officer – an Infraction
- Driving While Intoxicated (1st Offense) – a Misdemeanor
- Refusal to take Breath Test – an Infraction

Police were alerted of a traffic complaint involving a vehicle matching the description of Williams' vehicle. Police located the vehicle and when the emergency lights and siren were activated as the officer attempted to stop Williams vehicle, he initially failed to stop. Following the vehicle stop, police determined Williams to be intoxicated.

Williams refused to submit to a chemical test to determine the alcohol content of his blood.

Williams was processed and arraigned in Whitehall Court and released to appear in court at a later date.

The case was handled by Patrolmen Christopher Kyne and Randolph A. Bevins.
