PRESS RELEASE

On April 13, 2013, Police were called to a reported disturbance in which a female was heard calling for help in the area of a Broadway residence. Police located both parties that had been involved in the reported altercation, both which confirmed a verbal argument had taken place, however no offenses had been committed and the parties were un-cooperative with the investigation.

Police received information from a witness who reported observing physical contact between the two parties both on the day of the report, and in days prior.

Following an investigation, Police arrested Richard K. Kelley, 39, of Broadway, Whitehall, on April 16, 2013, and charged him with Criminal Contempt - 1st Degree, a Class E Felony, based on the statement he had physically shoved the victim in the case. Additional violation charges were filed as well. The victim sustained no injuries.

The investigation and arrest were handled by Whitehall Police Chief Matthew B. Dickinson and Patrolman Randolph Bevins.
